“ Most people know me in the family as L.J., I am the grandson of Charles. My life wasn't the easiest, torn between two homes because of divorce between my parents. My father and I, lived with my loving grandparents, Charles and Mary. It was there love, attention, compassion for GoD and me that brings out the true love of one's individuality. And brings out the best in aal the family and the community. And my grandfather wore many hats in the town of wauchula, fl. If you can recall, joy ministries the church most of us went to as children My grandfather preached. And when he said his words with GoDs. You did either one of three things: you either shivered, cried, laughed or done all three uncontrollably. But the real preaching is in the fishers of men. And charles was the best at what he did. But if you ever are a child, or grandchild of this great man. You would know true words of God's grace. Cause the preaching didn't stop at the pew. My grandfather and I would consistently go fishing every chance we got. See I was quick to listen to my grandpa, and slow to speak around him. Cause every time we went out of the house together was a new lesson in the bible and in life. He never stopped preaching. Even when he was alone in his shed, I would follow him when he was upset without him knowing and listen to him holler and mumble to god In prayer cause he didn't want the family to see him at his weakest. I wasn't there at the funeral last year. But i did him a favor in return,...I read him hashamaim (genesis ch1-3) and the book of job 1:1-4:1 from my Jewish Torah tanahk. Wauchula and this world has lost a great man, father, husband, mentor, preacher, and friend. I hope that one day Elijah will come with my grandfather by his side so I can tell him thank you and that I love him more than he ever knew.
